On a street in an English town, a policeman stops a car. In the car there is a visitor from another country who does not know that traffic in England keeps to the left.

But you said I was driving on the right side.

Stop!

Why are you driving on the right side of the road?

It's like a looking-glass! But I'll try to remember.

A strange country! If right is wrong, I'm right when I'm on wrong side. So why did you stop me?

That's right! You are on the right, and that's wrong.

Do you want me to drive on the wrong side?

What's the matter?

You are driving on the wrong side.

10. My dear sir, you must keep to the left. That right side is left.

Your answer:.....

X. Read the following passage and answer the questions below.

An Accident.

"Let's race down the slope at the park!", Tom said to Fred. The two boys went to the top of the slope. "Ready, go!", Tom yelled as the two boys cycled as fast as they could. The bicycles went down the slope at great speed. Then, the boys realised that they had lost control of the bicycles. They were going so fast that it was too dangerous to use the brakes. CRASH! BANG! The bicycles hit a curb and crashed into a fence and a tree. The boys were in great pain. Luckily, some joggers saw what had happened and came to help. Someone called their parents who soon came to bring them home. Tom and Fred had learnt their lesson. They promised never to do something so dangerous again.
